

TAKE THE TRAIN

IF ONE PREFERS STAYING ON THE GROUND, COPENHAGEN IS CONNECTED TO THE REST OF EUROPE THROUGH THE EUROPEAN RAILWAY NETWORK, AS WELL AS THE ÖRESUND BRIDGE, WHICH PROVIDES EASY ROAD AND TRAIN ACCESS TO SWEDEN.

TRAIN TRAVEL TO DENMARK AND COPENHAGEN

We encourage the reduction of carbon emissions by travelling with the railway, as Copenhagen is connected to the rest of Europe by train.

It is possible to reach Denmark by train, either by train from Sweden (www.sj.se) or train from Germany (www.bahn.de). There are direct trains from Hamburg (4 hours 40 minutes) and from Stockholm (5 hours 30 minutes, with overnight sleeper options).

For more information on international train routes, please visit www.seat61.com.

European citizens can buy a single-country InterRail Denmark Pass offering unlimited train journeys up to 8 days a month; Denmark is also included in the InterRail Global Pass that allows access to train routes in 33 European countries, making a multi-stop Scandinavian trip easy. The Eurail Denmark Pass offers similar options for non-European citizens.

REGIONAL TRAN SERVICES

DSB, which stands for the Danish State Railways, operates an extensive network of regional and InterCity trains that connect Copenhagen's neighbourhoods to Copenhagen Airport and across the country.

Excursions via train within and beyond Copenhagen to the rest of Denmark or Sweden are easily accessible from the Central Station. Trains run frequently and stop at many stations, making the journey from A to B quick and easy.
